Torch Song (Harvey Fierstein)

Theater im OP

Harvey Fierstein's Torch Song is a revised version of his celebrated Torch Song Trilogy, centering on Arnold Beckoff, a witty, sharp-tongued Jewish drag performer in 1970s and early-1980s New York who is searching for love, respect, and a sense of family. The play follows Arnold through three pivotal chapters of his life as he navigates relationships and identity in a world that repeatedly challenges his dignity. The play is an English Drama Workshop production, performed in English.
